Is it time to look at things differently?

Dr. John Watford
President, SGTC

What if? What if we began to look at things differently? What if we quit putting things off? Those two words, “what if,” could inspire us to see ourselves and the world differently. What if we challenged ourselves to do more, to do less, or to do something different that could have a tremendous impact not only on ourselves but on those around us as well.

Today is a great day to ponder, “What if?” The new year is a time when people begin to think about new opportunities and possibilities. So, “what if,” we approached life like a goat? Brian Rutherford, Director of Operations for Leadercast wrote, “Goats are entertaining animals. They eat practically anything. They lock horns when they disagree. They hang out near the edge of the fence, looking for an opportunity to escape and eat some greener shrubbery on the other side.”

Rutherford went on to explain that goats taught him three things about life and leadership. “1.) Look for greener pastures. 2.) Push the boundaries. And 3.) Listen to feedback.” As we begin a new year, I challenge you to think about the future, look around and see where you want to be. Then push the boundaries to make that dream happen. And lastly, find people who are “for you” that will provide good feedback.

South Georgia Technical College looks at things and people differently. We are here “for you.” We want people to push the boundaries and look for greener pastures by gaining the skills needed for high demand careers. We encourage people to set goals and push themselves to become better. We make “what ifs” possible.

South Georgia Tech is one of the smallest colleges in the Technical College System of Georgia. But it has been ranked as the best community college in Georgia for four consecutive years by two different agencies. We have over 200 associate degree, diploma, and technical certificate of credit programs of study available to individuals who are motivated to make a productive change. The college has a 99% job placement rate and exciting career opportunities for its graduates. We are ready, willing, and able to help people with “what if.”

The college has also been named one of the top 150 – out of more than 1,000 U.S. public two-year colleges – chosen to compete for the $1 million Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence. We were chosen because of high and improving levels of student success. Josh Wyner, executive director of the Aspen Institute College Excellence Program stated that the best community colleges are “continuing to focus on advancing the core mission: making sure as many students as possible graduate with credentials that lead to fulfilling careers and reflect the development of diverse talent that communities, states, and our nation need.”

On behalf of everyone at South Georgia Technical College, thank you for your support. I am thankful for our faculty, staff, and students who are making this happen. I am humbled to be a part of communities filled with individuals and business and industry leaders who support South Georgia Technical College and our mission of workforce education.

The college grew seven percent last year and is on target to continue that trend in 2024. Our students are thriving. Six students were selected recently to compete for the coveted SGTC GOAL (Georgia Occupational Award of Leadership) Award and represent the college at the state event.

Joshua Barlett of Vienna, Electrical Systems Technology; Damon Brown of Americus, Culinary Arts; Katlin Champion of Americus, Marketing Management; Diquita Mathis of Pinehurst, Criminal Justice; Zakary Mincey of Buena Vista, Welding; and Eddie Williams of Cordele, Barbering; were recognized by their instructors and peers as outstanding representatives of their programs and the college.

New programs are being initiated. Cyber Security has been added as one of the Computer Information and Networking program offerings for individuals interested in learning more about this growing field. South Georgia Tech is beginning the process to apply for an LPN to RN Bridge program. A new Biology instructor position has been added to provide the core classes for this opportunity.

SGTC is participating in the Georgia Match initiative that encourages high school seniors to “Claim Your Spot” at the college of their choice. We hope students see the value we offer and begin their post-secondary career here.

Students, who have not completed high school but are interested in pursuing their education, can sign up for High School Equivalency Classes here for free. We salute Catie Ekkel of Americus for being selected as SGTC’s EAGLE (Exceptional Adult Georgian in Literacy Education) student and Robbie Edalgo of Crisp County for being our Adult Education Instructor of the Year.

Nominations are currently underway to name the Instructor of the Year for SGTC and to showcase their passion to empower students to think about “what if.” This instructor will represent our college at the state Rick Perkins Instructor of the Year competition in April.

At South Georgia Technical College, I hope we always make decisions to positively impact our community and students. What decisions are YOU making now as we enter the new year that will change your life and the lives of others tomorrow? If you decide to take that first step toward getting ahead, I hope you choose South Georgia Technical College.

The Spring Flight Plan is filled with information about outstanding students, excellent academic programs, important information about how to enroll and register, and a list of the classes offered this semester. All that is required now is for you to think and act on “What if!”

Spring Semester starts January 11, 2024. Registration is January 9. We are celebrating the successes that we as a college, our students, and our communities have made for over 75 years.

SOUTH GEORGIA TECH NAMED THE BEST COMMUNITY COLLEGE IN GEORGIA AGAIN BY INTELLIGENT.COM

South Georgia Technical College has been named as the Best Community College in Georgia for 2024 by Intelligent.com, announced South Georgia Technical College President Dr. John Watford. This is the fourth consecutive year that South Georgia Technical College has earned this distinction by two different organizations.

Niche.com selected SGTC as the Best Community College in Georgia for 2021 and 2022, and now Intelligent.com has recognized South Georgia Tech for 2023 and 2024. The Intelligent.com complete rankings can be assessed at: https://www.intelligent.com/best-community-colleges/georgia/#south_georgia_technical_college.

“South Georgia Technical College has a tremendous reputation for providing an outstanding two-year education that prepares students for the workforce,” said South Georgia Technical College President Dr. John Watford. “We are very pleased Intelligent.com has continued to recognize the extraordinary value that South Georgia Technical College provides and has been providing our state for the past 75 years. We have a proud past and a promising future. This ranking provides external validation about the quality and excellence in technical education that we provide.”

Dr. Watford gave credit to the community as well as the faculty, staff, and students at SGTC. “This ranking is a testament to the faculty, staff and students at South Georgia Technical College and to our business and industry partners. Students attend South Georgia Technical College because of the outstanding faculty and staff here who continuously work for the betterment of students. Our professionals are helping students enroll, remain in classes, and become trained for the careers of their choice. Then, we work with business and industry partners to help place students in the workplace. This type of cooperation and hard work is what has helped us to be the top two-year college in Georgia for the fourth consecutive year.”

South Georgia Technical College was awarded Intelligent Pick on the Intelligent.com final list. Intelligent.com implements a unique methodology that ranks each institution on a scale from 0 to 100 across six categories. SGTC received a 99.70 ranking which is slightly higher than the college's 99.4 score in 2023. The scoring system compares each school to tuition costs, admission, retention, and graduation rates, faculty, reputation, and the student resources provided for online students. It also seeks input from students and parents.

Studies show that obtaining a degree increases income substantially, with graduates earning 84% more than those with only high school diplomas or those without a completed GED. The percentage difference in earnings continues to grow with higher learning degrees.

“South Georgia Technical College is an excellent choice for an individual that is interested in finding the career of a lifetime. We offer students the ‘complete college experience’ with over 200 different associate degree, diploma, or technical certificate of credit programs,” said Dr. Watford.

Partnerships with industry leaders such as Caterpillar, John Deere, Georgia Power, Delta, and others have helped the college to earn world-wide recognition in graduating students in heavy equipment technology while also taking advantage of the complete college experience including on-campus housing, a full-service cafeteria, nationally ranked men's and women's intercollegiate basketball, intramural sports, and student organizations. The college also highlights particularly successful students through its Student of Excellence program and by participation in the Georgia Occupational Award of Leadership (GOAL). The college has also had students nationally recognized in its SkillsUSA, National Technical Honor Society, and Phi Beta Lambda organizations.

South Georgia Technical College is one of the oldest technical colleges in Georgia. It was officially established in 1948 and is celebrating its 75th anniversary in 2023. SGTC is also the longest continually operating aviation maintenance training facility in the United States. The SGTC Lady Jets intercollegiate Division I National Junior College Athletic Association women's basketball team has made seven consecutive trips to the NJCAA National Tournament and 10 trips overall. The SGTC men's team has made three trips to the NJCAA National Tournament.
