President's

MESSAGE

South Georgia Technical College is "Creating Opportunities!"

Dr. John Watford
President, SGTC

Education is one of the most powerful tools for shaping a better world. It opens doors, expands minds, and fuels innovation. In other words, education "creates opportunities" that allow individuals to grow intellectually, emotionally, and even spiritually. It helps build pathways that will provide learners with opportunities for success.

At South Georgia Technical College, we are "creating opportunities" by providing over 200 associate degree, diploma or technical certificate of credit programs of study. Our graduates currently have a 99% job placement rate and over 90% of those graduates are working in their chosen fields. Three out of every four individuals that enrolled at South Georgia Technical College last year were retained and were able to earn a degree or a certificate in their chosen field.

And SGTC offers students and employers a guarantee that "if one of our graduates, who was educated under a standard program, and his or her employer agree that the employee is deficient in one or more competencies as defined in the standards, South Georgia Technical College will retrain that employee at no instructional cost to the employee or the employer."

That guarantee and SGTC's educational success are directly related to the faculty and staff that serve our community and our students. Teachers are at the heart of SGTC's educational success and we have the best. They work with students daily to help them achieve their educational and career goals. Our staff works just as hard to provide the non-academic personalized support, mentorship, and real-world learning experiences needed to open doors and break down barriers for students. Partnerships with schools, businesses, and individuals in the community are also vital to our success and the success of our students.

This fall, SGTC will officially begin its new LPN to RN associate degree program. Forty LPN's, who have been working six months or longer, have the required 17 hours of core classes, and have achieved appropriate scores on the college's placement test will be admitted to the initially approved Bridge program. Over 125 individuals applied to be in this initial class. There is a critical shortage of Registered Nurses in rural southwest Georgia, the state of Georgia, and the nation. South Georgia Tech is creating opportunities to help provide this area with additional nurses.

SGTC also will be offering four new programs of study on the South Georgia Tech Crisp County Center this Fall. Precision Machining, Barbering, Automation Technology, and Business Management are the new programs available for students to enroll in along with Accounting, Air Conditioning Technology, Business Technology, Computer Support Specialist, Computer Networking Specialist, Commercial Truck Driving, Criminal Justice Technology, Culinary Arts, Cyber Security Specialists, Early Childhood Care and Education, Electrical Systems Technology, Electronics, EMT, Health Care Assistant, Marketing Management, Medical Assisting, Practical Nursing and Welding and Joining Technology.

In addition to offering new programs, SGTC and its students are excelling in existing programs. Three students represented the college at the prestigious SkillsUSA National Leadership and Skills Conference (NLSC) in Atlanta recently. Hayden Tucker of Thomaston, A'Neya Mack of Plains, and Blake Archer of Palm Harbor, Florida, earned gold medals in their respective categories at the Georgia state competition and advanced to compete against the nation's best 6,500 student champions from across the U.S.

Tucker claimed top honors in the state in Aviation Maintenance, while Mack won gold in Technical Computer Applications. Mack took first place in the CNC3-Axis Milling competition. All three demonstrated their exceptional skills on the national stage at one of the country's largest showcases of career and technical education.

Congratulations to these students but also join me in congratulating their instructors. Victoria Herron, Charles Christmas, David Grant, Paul Pearson, and Robert Sturgeon are Tucker's Aviation Maintenance Instructors, Veronda Cladd is Mack's Computer Information Systems instructor, and Jake Pittman is Archer's Precision Machining and Manufacturing instructor. These individuals prepared their students for the national competition as well as very promising careers.

These are just a few of the latest examples of why South Georgia Technical College is a leader nationally in academics, student activities, and intercollegiate athletics. South Georgia Technical College is always striving to "Create Opportunities" through excellent educational opportunities for students, business and industry, and for the communities we serve. SGTC offers students the "Complete College Experience" and provides students with the use of textbooks at no cost, on-campus housing, and nationally ranked academics, student activities, and intercollegiate athletics.

Almost every SGTC graduate has a job or career option before graduation. They are nurses, receptionists, bookkeepers, entrepreneurs, air conditioning technicians, cosmetologists, EMTs, auto mechanics, auto collision and repair specialists, law enforcement officers, diesel mechanics, electricians, machinists, aviation maintenance technicians, computer specialists, firefighters, welders, culinary artists, drafters, early childhood care and education workers, marketers, business office specialists, and more. They are the "doers" in the community. They are the ones who make our community work.

One reason we are able to "Create Opportunities" in our communities is because of the support we receive from people like you. I thank you for your past support of this college and programs and ask for it again. The South Georgia Technical College Foundation's TechForce 2025 fund drive begins this fall. Your support provides needed scholarships, the use of textbooks at no cost for all students, state-of-the-art equipment for our Nursing students, and new renovations and construction.

If you or someone you know wants to experience an educational option that "Creates Opportunities," apply today. Fall semester classes start August 18. Registration will be held August 13, and SGTC can process the application, orientation and registration in one day.

For more information about how to enroll, contact the admissions office in Americus at 229-931-2394 or 229-271-4040 in Cordele or visit our website at www.southgatech.edu.

The Technical College System of Georgia (TCSG) has developed curriculum standards with the direct involvement of business and industry. These standards will serve as the industry-validated specifications for each occupational program. These standards allow Georgia's technical colleges to offer their business partners this guarantee:

"If one of our graduates, who was educated under a standard program, and his or her employer agree that the employee is deficient in one or more competencies as defined in the standards, South Georgia Technical College will retrain that employee at no instructional cost to the employee or employer."

This guarantee applies to all graduates of SGTC who are employed in the field of their training. It is in effect for a period of two years after graduation.
